Chamonix Snowshoe Adventure

Chamonix Snowshoe Adventure

£1245

Intermediate

This trip is aimed at those who are regular summer hill walkers and used to spending a full day in the mountains. You do not need previous snowshoe experience, but you do need a good level of fitness and be prepared to snowshoe off-piste!

The world famous Chamonix valley in the French Alps is a good base from which to explore the valleys and peaks in the Mont Blanc massif.

With Switzerland and Italy just 30 minutes by car we can experience three different cultures in as many days! Rather than specify in advance a prescribed schedule, each day your guide will decide on the best route based on an assessment of weather and snow conditions (an example itinerary is given further down, below).

- Enjoy stunning views of the Mont Blanc range
- Experience a night in the famous Grand St Bernard Monastery
- All equipment hire included in price
- Make fresh tracks in virgin snow

Departures Chamonix Snowshoe Adventure Itinerary

We always aim to complete the itinerary as outlined below, however, the following itinerary will be followed only when conditions and weather make it appropriate, both in terms of safety and enjoyment. Your guide will make a decision on your route based on those conditions.

Day 1 Arrival in the Chamonix Valley

We meet you at your hotel/chalet the evening you arrive to brief you on the week and answer any questions. Unless otherwise stated please be at the chalet for 6pm.

Day 2 Introduction - Chalets de Chailloux

Today we fit our snowshoes and take time to look at technique. We also introduce you to using avalanche transceivers and other essential safety equipment when walking in the mountains in winter. We aim to spend the day enjoying a walk with views of the Mont Blanc massif from the Chalets de Chailloux, a fabulous vantage point that gives superb views of the Chamonix valley and glaciers. If we have time we plan to spend a little time in Chamonix itself before heading back to our accommodation. Ascent 570m.

Day 3 Mont de l'Arpille, Switzerland

Today we have a trip to Switzerland, and an ascent of one of the best viewpoints of the area. We head up initially through pine woods, watch out for squirrels and roe deer, and then into more open ground as we arrive at the alpage. We then head for the summit which offers incredible panoramas of Mont Blanc, the Dents du Midi, and the Rhône Valley. Ascent 770m.

Day 4 Loriaz, Vallorcine

Chalet Loriaz is above the hamlet of Vallorcine. The Vallorcine valley, which means 'valley of the bears', used to easily be cut off during the winter months due to its access being two mountain passes. Unfortunately because the locals used to pay their taxes in bear meat there are none left today! We leave the village to climb steadily until we reach the open mountainside of the alpage at Loriaz. If the conditions permit we can also ascend the higher point of the Charmoz. Ascent 700m.

Day 5 La Crête des Bénés

A truly beautiful ridge line which offers excellent views in all directions. Today we head down the valley towards the market town of Sallanches where we take a small mountain road climbing to the parking at Le Perret. From here we pick up the forest trail which zigzags up the hillside to the ancient farms below the Tete Noire at 1691m, a fine summit in itself. We then leave the trees to discover what have to be some of the finest views of the Mont Blanc range. On one side the valley which leads to Chamonix, with Mont Blanc in the distance, on the other the Aravis mountains, and ahead the shapely mountain of the Croisse Baulet at 2236m. Not to forget the jagged rocky spires and huge cliffs of the Rocher des Fiz! Ascent 680m.

Day 6 Mountain Night - Grand St Bernard Monastery

Tonight we aim to stay at the Grand St Bernard Monastery in Switzerland. For centuries pilgrims, travellers, traders and armies have climbed to this mountain pass which sits at 2469m. The monastery is very isolated in winter, and can only be accessed by snowshoes or on skis making it a very special experience. This area is rich in history as we follow in the footsteps of Napoleon as we climb its snowy slopes. In more recent times the monastery has been made famous for its iconic St Bernard mountain rescue dogs the kennels of which are in the grounds of the Monastery Museum.

We begin the day with a drive across the French border into Switzerland to visit to the Grand St Bernard Hospice in the Monastery and its history. We then travel a little further to begin our hike. The route climbs high above the tree line through a snow covered valley to reach the Swiss Grand St Bernard Hospice founded in 1049 where we sleep the night. Ascent 544m.

Day 7 Italian Frontier

After breakfast we leave the monastery to explore further into this vast valley and network of peaks. Our route takes us initially down and then climbs to the Italian frontier and the Col Ouest de Barasson at 2635m. We are rewarded with excellent views into Italy, of the Mont Blanc range, and nearby summit of the Pain de Sucre. The perfect location to enjoy a picnic lunch and stillness of the mountains before returning to our base in the Chamonix Valley. Ascent 700m.

Day 8 Departure

Today is departure day.

Accommodation

Our accommodation is in the lovely village of Argentiere. The chalet has a sauna, hot tub and wonderful views of Mont Blanc. The bedrooms are twins, and occasionally single travellers may be asked to share a triple room with two other single travellers. These will be either en suite or shared bathrooms depending on availability. The group also has the use of the comfortable lounge area which has a real fireplace, satellite TV & DVD and free WIFI. There is a secure underground car park, ski lockers and overnight ski boot warmers in the basement. All meals (breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea and three-course dinner) are included. One of the evenings you will eat out in the village of Argentière - this is included in the price. We will spend one night at the wonderful Grand St Bernard Monastery. The rooms are dormitory which is traditional in this type of mountain refuge.

We always aim to complete our suggested itinerary but if the weather conditions mean it's not possible to snowshoe to the Grand St Bernard pass then your guide will offer a suitable alternative itinerary. Still with the aim to stay in a remote mountain location alternative snowshoe walks might be to the South Col of the Grand St Bernard Italian Rifugio Bonatti fabulous views of the Alps and are in spectacular locations.

Weather

In mountainous terrain the weather can vary considerably. In winter temperatures can range from +10 degrees celsius, to -15 degrees celsius. Even in winter it is often sunny with lovely blue sky days, but it can snow heavily and you would be prepared for any eventuality.
