Sebastien has a Masters in Sport, Tourism and Local Development and is qualified as both an 'Accompagnateur en Moyenne Montagne' (International Mountain Leader for hiking and trail running) and an Alpine Ski Instructor. He is passionate about trail running as it allows him to explore new places like: the famous GR20 in Corsica, the Swiss Alps, Mallorca, South of Spain, and off the beaten track in France such as the lesser known Cathar paths. When he's not outdoors, Seb lectures in 'mountain environment' to high school students to prepare them to become future hiking guides.
